

WHAT MAKES KEH SPECIAL?

As the world's largest dealer of used camera equipment, KEH has a voracious appetite to continually restock its wares. After all, they sell virtually every camera, lens, and accessory ever made! They even offer multiples of each item, priced according to cosmetic condition, to match your budget.

KEH is different from other buyers because they also want to buy what many consider as unwanted relics of the past - such as all models of film cameras (yes, even the Canon AE-1), all lenses, and accessories from every major brand. They know that somewhere in the world, someone wants that item.

So no matter what you have in your closet, vintage to digital, KEH will probably buy it - and give you a fair price, too!

We are fortunate to have John Izumi from KEH present at many of our Bargain Camera Shows. You can meet John in person and complete your transaction with ease.

Consider the hassle and expense that others in the USA (and all over the world) must go through to pack and ship their equipment to the KEH headquarters on the East Coast to accomplish the same thing!

John also travels to other shows in the USA, Canada, and Europe in his continuous search for more camera gear.
